Situacija s pandemijo Covid-19 močno zaznamovala potek projektnih aktivnosti, kljub temu prva COGDEC Poletna šola 2020 bo izvedena

Po povratku naših raziskovalcev iz KU Leuven in MU Graz so se zaprle meje in vrata fakultet ter laboratorijev. Kljub temu projektna ekipa Cogdec ni počivala. V preteklih dveh mesecih smo podrobno raziskali kaj ponujajo različne programske opreme za izvedbo predavanj z oddaljenim dostopom in se odločili, da bo COGDEC Poletna šola 2020 potekala preko programa Adobe Connect.

Prve prijave udeležencev smo že prejeli, predavatelji pa medtem pridno pripravljajo zanimive vsebine, ki bodo udeležencem na voljo v prazničnem tednu med 22. in 26. junijem 2020.

V junijski številki revije ISIS, ki ga izdaja Zdravniška zbornica Slovenije, si lahko preberete članek o izobraževanju v KU Leuvnu, ki sta ga napisala naša dva raziskovalca – povezava.

Covid-19 situation had a strong impact on project activities, however the first COGDEC Summer school 2020 will happen

Soon after our researchers have returned from their trainings at KU Leuven and MU Graz, the situation with Covid-19 deteriorated and universities and laboratories remained closed for quite some time.

Cogdec project team took this time to check some available platforms for online education and after some extensive trainings the decision has been made – Summer school will be delivered using the Adobe Connect platform.

First participants already registered and our lecturers are now working on interesting topics and presentations for the first Cogdec Summer school 2020, taking place in the last week of Spring, June 22 – 26 2020.

Article, written by two of our researchers, on training at KU Leuven has been published in the ISIS Magazine, the official newspaper of Medical Chamber of Slovenia. Article, written in Slovenian language, is available here.
